

Does ACNE
have you in the shadows?

If you are 12-45 years old, have facial acne, and can count at least 17 red bumps on your face, you may qualify to participate in a clinical research trial using an investigational topical gel medication or placebo gel (a gel with no medically active ingredients).

This is a 12 (twelve) week long study and requires 5 (five) visits to our office.

Qualified participants will receive:

- Skin evaluations by a board certified dermatologist
- Study medication for 12 weeks
- Compensation for time and travel
